

Living in Indiana and now reading the FCC proposal to adopt a lower national standard for Telephone Privacy Laws I am not happy. I work for the railroad on a 24 hour, 7 day week so my rest periods and privacy for family time is very important to me. If I needed the services of some of the vendors that have previously called my home which I doubt very much, I would have called them!. The simple fact that they are trying to sell me a product or service over the phone makes me believe that their company is not one of the most reputable to do business with anyway. Please do not implement this program.
